Company Profile

Hi, we are Husay

ABOUT HUSAY

We're building a fairer future for creative work.

A creative industry where creative work is more sustainable, collectively empowering, and fairer for the people and institutions shaping it.

This is the future we are building.

HUSAY.CO

A creative and managing partner for institutions and independent creatives.

Since 2009, we have been building better ways for meaningful creative work to happen, where creatives and institutions work better and thrive together

We deliver strategic creative services for institutions, connect them with a curated network of Filipino creative professionals, and provide business and career support for independent creatives.

WHAT WE BELIEVE

Meaningful creative work happens when creatives have what they need to thrive and organizations collaborate with creative partners who create works that strengthen their missions.

01

Good creative work never happens alone.

We believe meaningful creative work is built through strong collaboration between institutions and creatives, where both sides contribute to shaping the work together.

02

Nurturing creatives is not separate from producing great work — it is part of it.

We believe that the quality of creative work is shaped not only by talent, but by how creatives are treated, paid, trusted, and supported.

03

The future of creative work depends on how it gets made, not just what gets made.

We believe the conditions of creative work matter as much as the outputs. Whether people are fairly compensated, whether practice is sustainable, whether collaboration is built on trust—these are not secondary concerns. They are the work.

04

Collaboration should be the default, not something that has to be designed around.

We believe the gap between institutions and creatives isn't inevitable. It exists because the systems around creative work weren't built for genuine partnership. Better systems change that and make collaboration the natural starting point, not the exception.
